"A rescue agent found me. He said he could help me. I asked him how he could help me.

He told me all about Destiny Rescue.

Without his help, I would still be in that bar. I would still be doing bad things. But after my rescue, everything changed.

Now my life is very good."

Rescue and reintegration numbers make Destiny Rescue history

Record-breaking weeks occurred, with over 200 survivors rescued in just one week. With 2,386 rescues, this can be broken down to an average of seven rescues a day. With 1,116 survivors entering community care and 96 coming to live in our residential homes, we're thrilled to see reintegration programming transforming so many lives.

Food drops bring hope and save lives

Monthly food packs providing vital grocery supplies secured freedom for kids who had been forced to sell their bodies to feed their families and enabled rescue agents to find and rescue even more children from exploitation within these communities. In one nation, food drops were given across 250 villages. One food drop alone rescued 141 children.

Online task forces defy Covid-19 obstacles

This year, many survivors were found through social media, where pimps were marketing and selling them to clients. In multiple rescue nations, we saw social media play a larger role in sex trafficking. In proactive response, teams of rescue agents have intentionally been honing online rescue efforts to find kids.
