HOW ARE CHILDREN RESCUED?

Teams of rescue agents enter some of the darkest places on earth in search of children trapped in sex trafficking and exploitation.

Once identified, agents work relentlessly to bring these children to freedom. Each child's rescue looks different but typically falls into one of four rescue types:

Covert: Teams of rescue agents go undercover in brothels, bars and on the streets to find children being sexually exploited. Once found, we build trust with them and offer a way out.

Raid: Our rescue agents identify child sex-trafficking victims and gather the evidence needed to build a legal case against their traffickers. Teams then work alongside law enforcement to free victims and arrest offenders.

Survival: Rescue agents find children being sexually exploited on the streets or within their communities; most are selling themselves in order to survive. Agents then work directly with families to secure the child's safety and freedom.

Border: Rescue agents work at border crossing stations and actively identify trafficking victims. They detain and question travelers and take action as needed to rescue those found to be victims of human trafficking.

HOW DOES DESTINY RESCUE HELP KIDS STAY FREE?

When we are involved in reintegration, whether in a community or residential home setting, a member of our reintegration team will develop an individualized Path to Freedom for the child. This plan focuses on decreasing the vulnerabilities that led to her being exploited while providing new opportunities that allow her to flourish in freedom. This care may include safe housing, health needs, temporary economic assistance, education and/or vocational training, emotional health needs and spiritual growth. Each child is unique, and so is her path to freedom.

HOW DOES DESTINY RESCUE SHARE THE GOSPEL?

Every rescue project is equipped with a plan to share the Gospel with each rescued survivor.

This looks different from child to child and from nation to nation.
