

The Change

From-the-stage talking points for Nafuna's story

- Nafuna was exploited in a bar after her mother died.
- She was rescued after our staff persistently built trust, despite her initial rebuffs.
- She learned about real Christianity by watching the kind leaders in the Residential Home.
- When she graduated from the home, old contacts tried to convince her to return to exploitation.
 - When she boldly shared the gospel with one, he ran away!
- Nafuna learned hairdressing in vocational training and now has a stable job.
- She's saving money to buy a salon for herself and even bought a cow as a long-term investment!
- Nafuna has changed positionally and spiritually: the project leader said, "She can't speak ten words without mentioning God!"
